LEARNING COMMONS COUNCIL

Charge

The Learning Commons Council serves as an information resource sharing network for learning, teaching and collaboration and as an advisory body to the Head of the Undergraduate Library and its Learning Commons Coordinator. The Council will give discuss and provide input on matters related to the student needs, innovations in teaching and learning, and the evolution of programming and resources for the Learning Commons.

Composition

Members of the committee are appointed by the University Librarian with the advice of the Head of the Undergraduate Library and the Learning Commons Council. Members will be individuals representing departments or units that serve primary academic needs for undergraduate students.

Members

Head, Undergraduate Library (Lisa Hinchliffe)
Learning Commons Coordinator (Meg Bur)
Office of Educational Technology, College of Education representative (Evangeline Pianfetti)
ATLAS, College of Liberal Arts and Sciences (Jim Witte)
Director, Writer's Workshop (Libby Morley)
Career Center Assistant Director (Judith Martinez)
Information Management Specialist, Career Center (Lisa Redlinski)
College of Liberal Arts and Sciences General Curriculum Advisor (Chris Armstrong)
CITES EdTech (Leslie Hammersmith)
CITES ICS (Dave Ruby)
Wellness Promotion Specialist & Stress Management Coordinator, McKinley Health Center (Jennifer Carson)
Irwin Academic Center, Intercollegiate Athletics (Kathy Kaler)
Disability Resources & Educational Services (Mylinda Granger)