Illinois Newspaper Project Database

The objective of the Illinois Newspaper Project (INP) Database is to make all of the information that the INP has discovered about Illinois newspapers available to anyone anywhere. It contains comprehensive information about the newspapers that the INP has identified and catalogued, as well as titles that we've preserved by microfilming.

Though the database does not contain newspaper articles or digital newspaper content, it is a great tool for finding where current and historical newspapers are located. For suggestions on places to find newspaper content online, please visit our links page at:

Also, we will give a presentation at the Reaching Forward South Conference for Library Support Staff in Springfield on Friday, October 3. At both conferences, we will provide background information about the Illinois Newspaper Project, give an overview of our INP Database, and discuss future digitization projects at the UIUC Library. ● Preservation Microfilming Update INP preservation microfilming is in full swing. Check out our new microfilm web page listing every title we've microfilmed to date. New titles are being added every month. All INP-produced microfilm is available from the UIUC Library via interlibrary loan. ● INP Begins Work in Cataloging Region 3 During the fall of 2007, we began visiting libraries and historical/genealogical societies in INP Cataloging Region 3. This region includes the following counties: Clark, Clay, Coles, Crawford, Cumberland, Douglas, Edgar, Edwards, Effingham, Jasper, Lawrence, Moultrie, Richland, Shelby, Wabash, and Wayne. ● Help Us Spread the Word about the INP! We have created an informational flyer about the INP that can be posted in your institution. Copies of this flyer are available for printing here. 	 Moweaqua newspapers
