Guide to Ricker Library's Digitized Collections

Ricker Library has been contributing content for digitization to three platforms: Illinois Harvest – available at illinois.harvest.granger.uiuc.edu/index/asp); Illinois Digital Magazines and Yearbooks (www.library.uiuc.edu/imay) and the Internet Archive (www.archive.org/index.php). To check on what has been digitized and what is in the process of being digitized, please consult:

www.library.uiuc.edu/arx, and then click on our list of digitized collections. We have been concentrating on materials pertaining to either the University of Illinois or the State. Therefore, we lent our Arts for America, an important journal published in Chicago from 1894-1900; our Illinois Society of Architects' Monthly Bulletin (1916-1932) and two items published on campus, the Catalogues of the Contemporary American Painting and Sculpture (CAPS) exhibitions (1949-1969) which were held originally in the Architecture Building and later at the Krannert Art Museum and the Krannert Art Museum Bulletin (1976-1983); all are now available digitally. Links are available from within our online catalog to the electronic text. Other titles in the process of being digitized include the Architectural Yearbook from the UIUC's School of Architecture and Reflections, its scholarly journal.

If you have suggestions for digitization, we would be most pleased to pass them along to the Library's Digital Content Creation unit.

What is new on our shelves?

As Ricker patrons prepare for all the activities and deadlines of the final months of the semester, it is worth a reminder that new books enter our collection on a daily basis. If you are searching for the latest acquisition on your research topic, one option is to visit our on-line listing of Art & Architecture books acquired in the last month. To do this, click on the "New Titles" link in the right-hand side-bar of the Ricker Homepage. This will connect you to a list of all these sources. For a more customized search (call number limits, a shorter period of time, etc.), you can click the "New Search" or "Modify Search" buttons at the top of this page to adjust the list accordingly.

Below we offer a list of select books that may be of particular interest to our patrons.
