Leadership Scenario Cards

Scenario 1:

You ask for your director's advice on the following issue: I think a new business in town might be interested in supporting a library program. How shall I proceed?

Scenario 2:

You ask for your director's advice on the following issue: Pete is always late to work. I have discussed this with him and nothing has changed. What should I do?

Scenario 3:

You ask for your director's advice on the following issue: Our users are complaining about how long they have to wait to use a computer. What should we do?

Scenario 4:

You ask for your director's advice on the following issue: I have noticed that many mothers are looking at the computers but seem reluctant to use them. I would like to start a computer instruction program for mothers. What do you think?

Scenario 5:

You ask for your director's advice on the following issue: I have noticed that other libraries are loaning tablets to their users. I think this is a good idea. Do I have your permission to purchase 3-4 tablets?

Scenario 6:

You ask for your director's advice on the following issue: I see that a lot of our users are at the market. I would like to start a library stall at the market to attract more users. What do you think?

Scenario 7:

You ask for your director's advice on the following issue: I would like to start a recognition program for hard-working and excellent library employees. May I form a small working group and submit a proposal to you?
