- 616 The access to different types of information. Commerce librarians know this library inside and out. They are a great help.
- 618 The friendly and helpful personnel and the extensive collection of information available
- 619 Large collection, easy ability to get things from other libraries without working through library staff. Office delivery of books.

- 625 I'm very pleased with the U of I's libraries.
- 627 computer tracking system, atmosphere
- 629 The tremendous depth of materials never ceases to amaze me. I was looking for some obscure (or so I thought) British Government document and found it in the stacks with little or no problem. Also, your library staff are always very helpful despite the number of requests for assistance.
- 626 My comments are with regard only to the chemistry collection. The staff is incredibly uninformed and at times very unpleasant. They are reluctant to do their job, and their answer to every question is "look it up on the computer." These two women sit and talk loudly all day, disrupting study or research.

- 630 The collection of books and journals that the library possesses
- 635 There is always some information on what I am researching despite its possible obscurity.

- 659 CPLA's collection (both book and journal) is excellent. The staff is always helpful. They need more space and the funding to stay current (esp. expensive books and monographs). The main library's pre-1975 collection is great also.
- 663 The collection and online access.
- 666 Outstanding collection and library staff.
- 668 It almost always has the book, journal, or government document I need, however obscure. This is impressive.
- 672 I like being able to get most anything I need.
- 673 range of collection; print materials, especially nineteenth century ones.

- 674 Relatively simple to find what is needed, especially at the Music Library.
- 661 I like the concentration of subjects in individual libraries and the breadth of material covered by all the libraries together.
- 662 I like Grainger and the computers for engineering students only.
- 664 The library provides a nice place to study.
- 665 The stacks! I'm a James Scholar and so have access to the stacks. I could spend days in there wandering around looking at all of the books. It's overwhelming—in a good way.
- 675 What I like most about the University of Illinois Library is that any student can look up information about a book/magazine/journal online and find out which library it is in.
- 676 There is such a broad range of sources available on any one topic, it is easy to find recent material, and actually locating a source is relatively easy.
- 679 The sheer volume of resources.
- 680 I like the enormous amount and variety of material that can be found in the library as well as easy access to them online.
- 681 The resources (specifically within the Commerce library) are amazing! I hope that the university can maintain that standard of excellence.
- 684 grainger study areas
- 685 modern access to materials and ability to have materials sent to my office
- 686 we have a lot of resources
- 687 Large amount of resources, most are readily available
- 688 It's extensive print collections. But I do not think they are being preserved very carefully.

- 689 I like the staff when they are well-trained. Then they can match the collections, systems, and other resources to my needs. For goodness sake, a well-trained person is a happy person without facial ticks when you ask for information. The people at the library ALL really want to do their job the best they can, but many of them have given up because of administrative problems. You can see it on their faces, they have burned out not because of patrons, but because of the lack of understanding AT THE TOP of the beauty of systems that work well. There are several staff at the top who need to yield to some of the more creative librarians who know what to do but cannot. These are the people who can take the library to the 21st century. The organization on the whole is still in the 19th century, fearful of the 20th.

inter-library loan
- 697 I like knowing that almost any book I want will be in the library or elsewhere in the Big Ten. I like knowing that ILL will find almost anything for me. I like the 16-week loan period and the ability to see my books checked out on line.
Nelly Gonzalez is a great resource.
- 698 quiet atmosphere

- 726 The quantity and the availability of resources.
- 706 sheer amount of available material, fabulous library hours, accessibility of book stacks, dewey classification instead of simple numbering of the books

- 708 Excellent resource for remote materials searching. I am constantly amazed at the volume of pertinent records that I can query and find either in U of I collections on campus, or through affiliate lending libraries. I have collected an enormous amount of domain knowledge from the U of I library network that I was unable to collect at an Ivy League institution for thesis documentation. Superb system for retrieval + collections of complete journal/periodical runs.
- 717 Most often, when I am researching a topic, the UI Library offers a broad array of sources from their voluminous stacks and departmental locations. While the travel time from location to location does, at times, become tedious, it is much preferred to a lack of resources.
- 718 I have almost always had a positive and pleasant experience dealing with library employees. The collections are excellent in the libraries that I use the most (Biology, Vet Med, and Medical). Items are almost always where they should be, and I have a very pleasant time simply wandering about the stacks searching for information. Also, the amount of texts and journals available is incredible. The interlibrary loan has been very prompt and helpful. It is almost always fun to visit the libraries.

- 2328 The IEEE machine in Grainger is a phenomenally useful reference. Please continue to acquire the latest CD cartridges. It has been by far the single most useful resource for me.
- 2329 The people are very friendly and helpful. However, when looking for the browsing room after a computer search told me that a particular book was located there, I was sent to a couple different areas of the Undergrad Library before finally being sent to the Union. If the staff is unsure about the answer to a question, they should be able to immediately ask for help instead of guessing.

- 2338 Grainger is a very building
- 2341 desk staff are usually helpful and i like being able to research from home.
- 2342 I like the fact that things are nice and categorized for making it easy to locate items

- 2350 the amounts of information i can get in a relatively easy way.
- 2351 Very clean and big.
- 2354 Easy to locate items; sufficient length of time to keep items; availability of course reserve materials.
- 2357 The easy accessibility to materials, if the university has them, and the friendly and helpful advice of the librarians.
- 2358 on line full text is very convenient, but need better improvement to user friendly.
- 2359 Grainger computer labs are good.
- 2360 I like the fact that I have access to so much info, I rarely cannot find articles or books. I think what I like most are the departmental libraries, mostly because of the convenience.
- 2361 It's fine, a place to sit, but I don't usually use the library
- 2364 i have no trouble finding sources for my papers because there are so many books and journals available
- 2369 It is easy to access and the staff always seems to be readily available when needed.
- 2371 there are a lot of resources available for the picking.
- 2362 Rich materials such as books, journals and magazines.
- 2363 Accessibility to a variety of materials on many subject, and the ease in which these materials can be found through computer research.
- 2365 I like that it is in a convenient location. It is right on the quad so that in between classes i can always go there to study or get on a computer to do some work or print up some class notes.
- 2367 I like that there is always someone around to help me. In addition, I have taken out several books over the semester and the amount of books and the tome limit to which I have to use them are great.

- 2370 They're at good locations on the bus routes, so they are easy to get to. The collection of books is nice and I'm very satisfied when I find a lot of books as references when writing papers. The staff is very nice. I especially like the vending machines in the undergrad.

- 2382 Very good places to study.
- 2383 I use Grainger Engineering Library on a daily basis. I am more than satisfied with its location, the variety of work spaces within the library, and the number of workstations. I can conveniently stop by the library for an hour when I have a break in classes. There are designated areas that help for quiet studying versus group studying and different work spaces, catering to those who prefer a study carrel over a table.
- 2385 In previous semesters when I was on campus (I am away from Urbana for this semester), most of the papers/journal articles I would look for were easily found in nearby library branch (Mathematics or Grainger).
- 2389 Inclusiveness of collection
- 2384 The online catalog was easy to use after taking the prep course in using the system. Librarians have been readily available to assist me for a research project. I like being notified when books have come in and being able to pick them up at a convenient library.
- 2387 the fact that you can check the library collections from home through the computer.
- 2390 The collection. Thus far in my research I have found the University of Illinois to have the best quality collection.

- 2393 The librarians are always very helpful and it's a much better place to do homework compared to the distractions of the dorm.
- 2394 The hours that they are open is the biggest thing. It is hard to study in my room and it is easier to be able to study there, have resources and use computers if needed. It is a close and convenient place to meet with groups because it is near campus and it has a lot of room.

I also like how I can call or use the computer to renew books.

- 2459 The amount of materials there is amazing, making reasearh a lot easier. The staff is always very friendly and willing to help.
- 2460 The online full-text journals are an excellent resource - saves everyone a lot of legwork. I wish there were more journals online, and it would also be helpful to have full-text articles online from issues prior to 1996.

- 2463 availability-right on the quad-can go to it in between classes and use the computer

An excellent record, considering the obscure titles I have requested. - 3839 The wide variety of journal articles. I have been pleasantly surprized to need and actualy find articles in what I have considered obscure journals. I have never been to a school that has journals like Acta Crystallogr., sect. C: Cryst. Commun. or Bull. Chem. Soc. Jpn.

- 3853 The Rare Book Collections; the collections of papers of writers, artists, and the emmense amount of books available. I spent 2-1/2 years as an undergraduate student in the English and Rhetoric Departments, graduating May 13, 1984, and my big problem when over in the English graduate library was not spending all day in the Library reading books or taking out just 5-6 instead of a dozen.

- 4191 The departmental libraries are absolutely crucial to my research and teaching. I regularly bring undergraduate and graduate students to 425 library and the Rare Book Room. I have a high number of gradaute contacts (MA and PhD diss) in art history and these students have been enormously helped about the language-side of their projects by the extremely competent staff in 425 library. Our departmental libraries are a hold-over from a past system which should be maintained and ditinguish our unversity library from many others. Because of Modern Languages and Linguitics Librar and it's excellent staff, I and all of my students can work more efficiently and accurately.

- 4257 Services
- 4258 I've found that materials are often conveniently arranged by subject in the general and departmental libraries; several times I've found useful material in a general area that didn't appear on my telnet search.
- 4259 Knowing that if I need a book I'm likely to find that the library at least owns it, even if I can't acquire it easily or promptly.
- 4263 The chemistry library has a lot of what I need.
- 4264 I really liked certain savvy and helpful librarians in the Commerce library. I am amazed by the amount of

- 4272 wide array of materials

Our librarians at Beckman send me new references using search criteria I developed with them.
I can use IBIS to find references, and I can directly download them into EndNote. This is a god send.

- 4651 Having been a public library employee, holding three different positions, and having attended 9 different universities and colleges over the years, I feel the attitude of the staff is THE most important factor in a library. And, the U of I fares well in this regard. Often when I use the library I am searching for obscure information. Frequently, I seek some assistance from the staff. Unlike many public libraries I have used, and unlike other university libraries I have frequented, I find the staff friendly, knowledgeable, helpful, and perhaps most important, honest if they are unfamiliar with a topic or unable to provide the needed assistance. I have always been made to feel welcome, that helping me with my requests were important to the staff member, and no matter how busy they may be, my interruption was not placing a burden on

I like the fact that wherever the book is, be it on campus or not, it will be sent to a convenient location where I can pick it up. - 5294 The depth and breadth of the collection is outstanding. Even when I can't find something here, I can usually get it through interlibrary loan in a matter of days. I particularly like the ability to locate a book in another library on campus and have it delivered to a location of my choice. Also, the professional staff have always been willing to bend over backwards and go the extra mile to help me locate an item. Kudos to them for a job well executed.
- 5295 The copy machines.
- 5298 well organized. easy to find books. long checkout periods.
- 5299 Ricker Library has a good concentration of the sources that I need for my major of Art History. The librarians always are helpful if I have any questions or problems.
- 5300 Once I get there I can always obtain what I came for. I may have to ask a librarian's help because the on-line catalogue is so messed up with instructions, networks, links and details. I go in and get the section Dewey number from a librarian and go look for materials.
The librarians have always been very helpful--this is from a 35 year perspective.
- 5301 have helpful libraries and people who can help you if you have a computer problem
- 5302 Great print collections, mail requests, long loan periods for grads, and expert reference assistance mark UI's library as substantially excellent. And three cheers for the University's subscription to "Early English Texts On-line"!
- 5303 Plenty of resources to choose from.
- 5304 Librarians are courteous. Services are readily available.

- 5308 This is an excellent library system, and I really like nearly everything about it. The collections are generally excellent, so I do not have to order journal articles from other libraries, but can usually get them immediately. And if there are articles or other resources which are unavailable here, it is very easy to get them sent to me.
- 5309 I most like the fact that the librarians are helpful and knowledgeable when answering my questions and if they do not know the answer they try to accommodate me the best they can.

- 5321 Both the huge range of books, publications and documents available throughout the University Library system and the caliber and character of dedicated and knowledgeable staff which have been assembled here, make this one of the world's premiere library systems.
- 5324 I like the possibility of retrieving desired library materials relatively conveniently. I like the artistic decor of the building design and the exhibits which library staff create for educational purposes.
- 5328 The strength of the print collections, although this is weakening steadily. How long can we continue to tell prospective faculty members and graduate students that our library ranks after Harvard and Princeton and Yale? My vote is to put funds into collection development.
I am continually impressed by the high quality of service provided to me by library staff. Tom Kilton goes out of his way to support faculty research by responding to book order requests. He also meets with new faculty and introduces the collections in MDX to new graduate students in French.
- 5329 Large collection, easily accessibly.

- 5369 The library staff is very friendly.
- 5370 The online catalog system via the web version is very nice. Much better than the telenet version.
- 5377 We should make more libraries like Grainger. The undergraduate library is the most used for group projects and individual study, yet it is in the worst shape for those activities.
- 5379 its size
- 5380 It is a great place to study (Grainger Library). The environment is conducive to learning and there are computer resources.
- 5381 the wealth of information available here and the friendly staff
- 5382 U of I Library system has almost anything you could possibly want from a library. If they do not have it, they can usually get it. They make all resources accessible. - 5384 The vast collections of books and audio material.
- 5386 I like having multiple libraries in which to go on campus. There is almost always a library close to my classes. Also, departmental libraries are good for more specific information and help.

- 5403 good location and open at the right time.
- 5406 The collections are outstanding. Almost everything I need is on campus, and what's not here can be ordered easily from other network libraries. Although I sometimes wish that newer books would be ordered/added to the collection more quickly (much of my own research involves recent titles), overall the collection is far superior to any college library that I've used in the past.

5416 being able to log onto computers and check my e-mail quickly. The computer labs tend to have most of the software i need and i am able to use it quickly. the only thing is that the people who work for ccco can never help me with computer related problems. Most often they have no idea what to do either.

5418 Lots of materials, on everything. Good help if librarian available.

5419 # of books and materials we have

5420 The holdings of the library - and the ability to access other library holdings- is very impressive. I've never had trouble finding the book or journal I need.

5423 It is realitively easy to access infromation

5424 The personnel. I have always been helped very well by all personnel. That is very important.

5425 The hours are great and the people are extremely nice except for a choice grad assistant in the chemistry library named Steven. Apparently he also works at Grainger and he is not well liked there either. Fire him..... A girl in the chemistry library is very nice and helpful. Karla Combs is awesome.

5426 It is very convenient and provides a quiet study area and many resources are made readily available.

5427 Expansive and useful print collection

5428 The librarians and library assistants are very curtious knowledgable and helpful

5431 That one can access articles from my room or computer lab and how easily it is to use those full text databases.

5435 It is a quiet place where I can get away from the noise around the dorms to study more efficiently with fewer distractions.

5436 what a great collection.

- 5437 It is well organized.

- 5451 They have almost every book I've wanted.
- 5454 UIUC library system is fast and easy to use. The staff is also very friendly. At CPLA, when I was doing research the librarian along w/ the rest of the staff that day all went out of their way to help me find material. They were extremely nice and quick too.

- 5460 I love the music librarians. They are the most kind and helpful people I have ever encountered in my life. They have a wealth of info, and will stop on a dime to answer any question, no matter what level. I cannot tell the number of times I've heard them answer questions from a "Joe-off-the-street" in the same respectful and helpful way that they would speak to tenured faculty.
